0900-1030	Panel Discussion: Impact Investment Opportunities in Agricultural Commodities What are the major public-private partnerships geared at raising the sustainability standards of agricultural commodities? Who are behind these partnerships, and how are these partnerships changing the investment landscape for these commodities? This panel will showcase some of the major models for supporting independent smallholders, focusing on the lessons that can be drawn from their implementation so far. It will also highlight the processes and financial mechanisms required to scale up these models to create greater impact. Panellists: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Golden Agri-Resources</li> <li>• IDH – Sustainable Trade Initiative</li> <li>• International Finance Corporation</li> <li>• SNV</li> <li>• Sustainable Districts Platform</li> <li>• Swisscontact</li> </ul> Moderator: Dr. Nirarta "Koni" Samadhi, Country Director, World Resources Institute Indonesia
1030-1130	Moderated Discussion: Perspectives on Financing Independent Smallholders How can financing institutions' policies/mandates for sustainability be met by independent smallholder models? What can be done to make these models more bankable and therefore more attractive to a larger market? Should non-financial benefits matter as much as financial returns, and if so, how can financing mechanisms for these models account for that? This moderated discussion will invite comments and recommendations from the curated audience consisting of development agencies, banks, impact investors, and companies within the supply chain. Moderator: Associate Professor Simon Tay, Chairman, Singapore Institute of International Affairs
1130-1400	Lunch and Investment Marketplace
